Vision

The Columbia County Cultural Coalition (CCCC) serves as a catalyst for leadership through encouragement, coordination and funding of heritage, arts and humanities in Columbia County, Oregon.

- Heritage is what we receive from our ancestors and the past. It includes, but is not limited to, narrative histories, historic objects, traditions, buildings, documents, pictures, museums, cemeteries, natural features, conservation, preservation, and organizations pursuing history.
- Art is the creative expression of individuals, groups and organizations. It includes dance, music, creative movement, prose and poetry, architecture, book making, facilities where art is produced, suppliers of arts and materials, education, and performances.
- Humanities are our cultural and intellectual heritage, the sum of human experience, thought and expression. They teach us about each other and ourselves, and foster the understanding and connectivity that makes for a vital community. The humanities are the stories, the ideas, and the words that help us make sense of our lives and our world.

Priorities

- Protect existing and create new cultural assets
- Focus on youth to help them experience culture in a variety of ways
- Focus on elders to utilize their memories to record our heritage and to seed the future
- Increase access to and participation in cultural events and activities

Funds for CCCC grants come from the Oregon Cultural Trust. Applications for CCCC grants do not disqualify an application to the Oregon Cultural Trust or other organizations.

Special Focus 2023

"Cultural tourism" has been defined by the UN World Tourism Organization as: "A type of tourism activity in which the visitor's essential motivation is to learn, discover, experience and consume the tangible and intangible cultural attractions/products in a tourism destination." Columbia County's distinctive culture is expressed in its arts and architecture, museums, foods, music, literature, natural beauty, history and traditions, and in countless other ways. Examples of encouraged projects include but are not limited to

- Beautification projects: murals, public art installations, etc.
- Musical and cultural events
- Historical group tours and local oral history
- Art shows

Other worthy projects will be considered if funding is available. Do not hesitate to apply.
